EXPERIENCE

Elementary Teacher

5 years

Florida Public Education

As an elementary school teacher, I was responsible for creating engaging, structured lesson plans to facilitate learning among diverse student populations. I leveraged strong communication and interpersonal skills to convey complex ideas in a simplified manner, fostering a collaborative learning environment. Additionally, I routinely adapted teaching methods to address individual learning styles and needs, demonstrating my ability to tailor solutions to unique user requirements. Furthermore, I utilized data-driven insights to assess student progress, a skill easily transferable to software development where I analyze data and user feedback to improve applications. Overall, my experience as an elementary school teacher equipped me with the communication, adaptability, and analytical skills necessary for success in software development.
